most important decisions you'll make; it will help shape your independence as a person more than anything. This is an emotional time, one of learning who you are and what you want to be, and of exploring and doing the things that you're interested in. I recommend making the decision about where you'll go to university using both your mind—your intellect—and your heart.

There is no way I would have won a Nobel Prize if I had stayed in the United States. I became an astronomer and the social structure of my field over there
